

WARNING!

Important – read this information before using this garment.

Never intentionally hit anyone with a stream of high pressure water. This garment will not protect against a stationary blast. Garment is designed to lessen injury from a quick swipe only. It cannot prevent all injuries from high pressure water, even if worn properly.

If properly worn, garment may lessen severity of injury from accidental momentary exposure to a water jet. Injury severity will depend on water pressure, water flow rate, distance from nozzle, length of exposure and type of nozzle. Low pressure applications may be more dangerous than higher pressure applications due to greater water flow.
